GETTING STARTED IN SURGICAL RESEARCH

A Celebration of the 20th Anniversary of the RCS Research Fellowship Scheme

13th November 2013, 10.30am

Lecture Theatre 1, Royal College of Surgeons of England
Tea and coffee will be available from 10.30am in the Edward Lumley Hall

PROGRAMME

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
<th>Presenter/Position</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>11:00</td>
<td>Introduction and Welcome</td>
<td>Professor Derek Alderson, Chairman, Academic &amp; Research Board, Royal College of Surgeons</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11:05</td>
<td>A Brief History of Surgical Research and the College</td>
<td>Dr Sam Alberti, Director of Museums and Archives, Royal College of Surgeons</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11:25</td>
<td>What Type of Research Do You Want to Do?</td>
<td>Professor Jane Blazeby, Professor of Surgery, University of Bristol</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11:50</td>
<td>How to Get Your Research off the Ground</td>
<td>Professor Dion Morton, Director of Surgical Research, Royal College of Surgeons</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Success Stories from the RCS Fellowship Scheme

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
<th>Presenter/Position</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>12:15</td>
<td>Better Research Makes Better Surgeons</td>
<td>Professor John Neoptolemos, Head of Division of Surgery and Oncology, University of Liverpool</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:22</td>
<td>I Did It My Way</td>
<td>Professor Charlie Knowles, Clinical Professor of Research, Barts &amp; the London School of Medicine</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:29</td>
<td>What the Fellowship Did for Me</td>
<td>Miss Barbara Jemec, Consultant Hand &amp; Plastic Surgeon, The Royal Free Hospital</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:36</td>
<td>The College, Stem Cells and I</td>
<td>Professor Martin Birchall, Professor of Laryngology &amp; consultant ENT/Head &amp; Neck Surgery, UCL Ear Institute</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:43</td>
<td>Success is a Journey, Not a Destination</td>
<td>Professor Ian Loftus, Consultant/Reader in Vascular Surgery, St Georges Hospital</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:50</td>
<td>The Matrix: Neo Insights into Osteoarthritis</td>
<td>Mr Matthew Gardiner, Freemason/RCS Research Fellow</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>13:00</td>
<td>Lunch - Edward Lumley Hall</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Success Stories from the RCS Fellowship Scheme (continued)

13:45
Tissue Engineering for Tendons
Professor Andrew Carr
Nuffield Professor of Orthopaedic surgery, University of Oxford

13:52
It’s All about Blood Vessels
Miss Lorna Marson
Senior Lecturer in Transplant Surgery, University of Edinburgh

14:00
Being Clever About Bleeding
Surgeon Cdr Catherine Doran
Consultant Emergency & Colorectal Surgeon

14:07
International Adventures in Surgical Research
Miss Jo Manson
Specialist Registrar, The Royal London Hospital

14:15
Spermatological Stem Cells – A Route to Preserving Fertility
Miss Raveen Sander
Shears/RCS Research Fellow, University of Newcastle

14:22
What the Fellowship Pump-Primed
Professor Peter Hutchinson
Consultant Neurosurgeon, University of Cambridge

14:30
How to Get Involved In Surgical Trials as a Trainee
Mr Thomas Pinkney
Senior Lecturer and Consultant Colorectal Surgeon, University Hospitals Birmingham

14:50
How to Maintain a Research Interest as a Consultant
Professor Nigel Bundred
Professor of Surgical Oncology, University Hospital of South Manchester

15:10
How to Get Your Work Published
Professor Derek Alderson
Chairman, Academic & Research Board, Royal College of Surgeons

15:35
Conclusion and Questions

16:00
Tea and Coffee – Edward Lumley Hall